Washinores, Jan. 21, 1661.

It will be remembered that, during the last sesnion of Congress, a question arose as to paying the instalment due by the United States to Mexico, under the treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo—an application having been made by Isaac D. Marks, through Gen. Duff Green, to anticipate the payment, upon certain terms which he represented would be advantageous to the United States, and asserting that the former Secretary of State, Mr. Clayton, had consented to the arrangement, and that in consequence Mr. Marks had made all the necessary provisions to fulfil his project. Mr. Bayly, the Charman of the Committee on Ways and Means, opposed this mode of payment, and favored the continuance of the payments through the Barings and Corcoran and Ruga—a direction which Congress subsequently ratified with its consent. At the time, it was stated that Mr. Marks had no authority for the assertion that the former administration had favored his plan. Mr. Marks has just published a pamphlet, in the shapeloi a memorial, together with a letter from Mr. Clayton, written in his retiracy, which, notwithstanding its diplomatic uncertainty, goes far to prove that Mr. Marks stated sothing but the truth.

The Watchman Fire Company—City Mortality.

Baltimore, Jan. 22, 1851.

The Watchman Fire Company publish a long card of thanks this morning to the firemen and citizens of New York, for the noble hospitality extended to them during their recent visit to that city. Their description of the honors done them exceeds anything ever done in that line in Baltimore.

The number of deaths in Baltimore during the past week was 64, of which number 31 were under 10 years of age. With a population of 168,000, this is certainly a very light record of mortality—scatecily averaging more than one to each three thousand souls for the week.

[From the Pacido New, Dec 13]

Notwithstanding the very large receipts of merchandise within the last mouth, there is but a slight downward tendency, owing to the general belief—errone usly founded, we think—that the merchants in the mining districts have not rully supplied themselves for the winter demand, although the rainy season, has fairly commenced. It no doubt strikes our eastern friends with no inconsiderable degree of surprise, that a State producing little else than money, or at least its 'next of kin,' should in the second year of its existence, te on the verge of bankruptcy, and that a comporate or within the same State, should find itself unable, with we than a property at its disposal, to megotiale seen a temthe court of any should in the second year of its easily the same State, should find itself unable, with the same State, should find itself unable, with the same State should find itself unable, with the same states than 10 a 12 per cent per month; in the country but for the want of that prompt clien on the part of the general government to give to the cause for all his may be traced, not to the fact of the want of capical in the country, but for the want of that prompt clien on the part of the general government to give to bill y and to impart confidence in landed titles he same causes which operate on public credit are eding felt most seriously by our business men, very we bring able to effect iosns even for small amounts, miles it be on the mest undoubted security, and then hay at most ruinous rates—5 a 16 per cent per month and in all cases the property or securities hypotheated must nearly quadruple the amount borrowed. His state of things must continue with very little batement until Congress shall see fit to give us a ranch Mint, then nearly all the dust which now goes present through the hands of our brokers, will remain one to be coined and eventually seek investment in one portion of the State.

[From the San Francisco Pleayune, Dec 8]

During the whole of the present week trade in every epartment has been very inactive, and business seems to have been and still continues. Indicat to transaciens of a light jobbing description—no heavy operatens of a light jobbing description—no heavy operatens for all the principal articles, show a great salety to dispose of goods at far more reduced prices and herefore. In consequence of the advanced period in the reason, and the desire to close the sales of old tooks, so as to make room for the much increased and soreasing new stock new here and daily arriving.

In the money market we perceive no particular hands States in ha very fourthing condition. The ews brought by the steamship Columbus, last evening, a very recoursigning to those of our merchants who have con at the date of our last review the closing sales being at $19 per 200 lbs sacks. Vesterday, we heard of sales at $17% a $18 for the best article of Chill. The demand for United States and Australia flour is limited. We hard of no sales yesterday.

Onto; a still see of provisions are much neglected. Extreme achiners continues to prevail particularly in the perk market, and we heard of no sales except for retail trade.

The perk marget, we retail trade.

Whommar, Dec. 4.—The market, yesterday, was rather more active, more so than the three days previous, jet there were no operations of any importance so as to make a change in prices. At public sale, a large quantity of groceries, provisions, ciothing, and various other articles of trade, were sold at reduced with the contract of Flour is kept up at too high a rate to induce buyers.

Figure is kept up at too high a rate to induce buyers, at this advanced season of the year, to purchase any quantity to speculate upon, and sales are necessarily limited and confined almost solely to city consumption. The price quoted is hardly sustained. Puring the past few days, there has been no additional increase made in the stock of grain in hand, which is large sufficient to be equal to the demand for the next three months. Sales of small loss are effected at the prices quoted.

We have no alteration to make in the value of stocks from the following quotations, viz.—

resisting a large prior; we quote the prior prior by the quantity.

Fire brick are also looked for lately, and are selling at 500 per thousand for the best English description. In all other leading articles, we noticed no improvement but on the contrary prices are tending down-

FRIDAY, Dec. 6 — Since our market of yesterday, nothing of interest has transpired in any separtment of trade; the amount of business doing at present is mostly limited to a jubbing or retail trade.

Small packages of tobacco are much looked for; all other descriptions are selling unusually low. The weather continues remarkably dry for the season of the year, we have now had more than a week of dry, cold, bracing sunny weather, and should it continues for few weeks longer, buyers from the country may be expected in our mart, when a partial revival may be expected.

may be expected in our mart, when a partial revival may be expected.

Nonzer, Dec. U.—The state of trade in this city. Guring the past two weeks, has been en an extremely limited scale, and continues without any symptoms of improvement, notwinatanding the lacressed facili-ties duly offering in our midst, as well as the con-tinued fine weather, which we have been unutually fa-vored with, at this advanced season of the year—nor do we perceive at present any indication of immediate innervent.

Dec. 10.-We have no improvement whatcupied in making great preparations in improving in every way their warehouses and stores for the Spring trade, which, when completed, will vie with the like in any of the cities in the older States of the Atlantic coast cistion which has generally taken place in all descriptions of goods.

Thussay, Dec. 12 - The business transacted to-day, was pretty much on a par with the several days which preceded it. With regard to trade, we have still no improvement to notice, except in the auction marts, which appeared to be much better attended, although buyers bid with great caution and hepitation, from the fact that almost every day brings with it a decline in everything offered for sale.

Savundar, Dec. 14.—Since the departure of the regular mail steamer of the lat inst. the business transacted in the different branches of trade has been unusually limited. Prices of almost every article have considerably declined—to which we have carefully altered our quotations. This stagnation is commercial state is har greater than at any time last winter. To some extent this was expected, but not to such a ruin-regret to notice, by the last news from the Atlantic States, that large shipments of merchandies were being made for this market. This fact is in itself, enough to depreciate the value of the goods already in the market here, when it is known that an unusally large stock is on hand. In fact, there appears at present not to be the least sign of improvement, with the greater portion of the winter before us.

There is nothing new from the mining districts; but from all accounts the prospects are cheering. The miners are occupied in making preparations for the spring, when they expect to reap, in truth, a golden harvest.

There is but very little doing in real estate, and no important sales have been made since the late extraordinary opinions expressed by the judges of our Supreme Court, which affect the titles to most of the real estate in this city; another reason is, that money is very scarce, in consequence of the great demand there is for it, for the great and very necessary improvements which are making and have been made within the limits of the city.

We have no improvement whatever to note in the money market. Money is very scarce, and tight; but when the works of the general government commence, it will throw a large amount of coln in circulation, which at present lies hid in the dark vanits of the Custom House. The amount is raid to be upwards of one and a half million:

[From the Sacramento Tribune, Dec. 12]

California, although one of the sisterhood of States, occupies in many respects an isolated position, and so unlike every other that what might be justice to them would be great wrong to her. This is especially true of the tailf regulations. Every State cast of the mountains depends upon itself or its neighbor for all the necessaries of life, and is coxequently not taxed for bready but here it is not so. California has burst into existence full grown like an army two hundred thousand strong, with no means of support except by supplies from without. For there supplies she examet depend upon her sist

To super. Dec. 10.—We have no improvement whatever to notice in any of the departments of tradesines our last review. Buriness continues exceedingly duli generally, and holders of goods are exhibiting every disposition to effect sales at a mere nominal profit, rather than lose an opportunity of getting rid of some of the large stock on hand.

The money market remains as when we noticed last, without change.

Transar, Dec. II.—The markets are exceedingly dull, and goods are disposed of at auction at a very low rate. Salessed small quantity of a prime article of butter was made at 26c, first quality ham, 14 to 16c. Flour, no rais; hard, fine quality, the... and numerous other articles of groceries and provisions, &d. &c. were disposed of at marky cost prices. Coal is very abundant, and sales are very unfrequent. We hard of sales at 50 per ton. Such was the state of the market. If production is reduced, consumption is also economised when the market is production and shirtings are in steady demand at firm prices, but the market has no liveliness of sales at 50 per ton. Such was the state of the market. By reduction are on the advance, animalized and the moment. A greater activity is or animation at the moment. A greater activity is or ani request, at firm prices. Ticks are in rair demand, with a scarcity of low grades; prices are steady, Stripes are quist Printing cloths are only in moderate demand; but the stock, which is slightly on the increase, is firmly held, with an upward tend-ncy as the season of activity approaches. Prints are in better request for outside as well as eigh purys; prices are very firm. Jeans, both corast and bleached, are in good request, at scady prices Chambrays are not notive but continue in a quiet, regular demand, for clothing purposes. Giugham are in steady asticity of demand, considering the early season, and prices are firm. Lewin, of fereign fabric, are in fair demand, at buoy and prices; but the sale of home-made fabrics was suspended till after the public sale, announced for the 19th January, has taken place. Cotton famulationery shows increasing sales, at steady prices. Mouselines de laine are in greater request. The new styles are in the market in fair supply, and reclise full prices—readily given. Less is doing in cloths, owing parily to the advance in prices, which induces a certain degree of backwardness in buyers; but a greater advance will have to be conceded before the season is over, especially for the lower priced cloths. Satinets are in good request at the recent advance, and stocks are far less than at this time last year. Indeed, for many years past, stocks of domestic weelers have not freely appeared in market, but next months large supply will be here for the spring trade. Tweeds have not freely appeared in market, but next months large supply will be here for the spring trade. Tweeds have been active; the importations have been this week very large, but arrive mostly to special order; accumulating the stocks in second but not in first hands, and in great part for our neighboring cities of Baltimore, Philadelphia and Beaton. A better supply of ribbons now appears than previously existed before the Franklin and Asia arrived. These two steamars bring a heavy amount of French manufacture for proviou

Hav has been rather quiet since yesterday, but prices have undergone no important change. A lot of 250 bales North River was taken for shipment at 71 a 75c. cash.

Hors—A steady demand for home use. Some small lots of new crop Eastern and Western brought 30 a 35c, cash.

Iacx—Scotch pig continued rather heavy, but holders were firm; with sales of 250 tons at $20.50 a $21 6 menths. ex ship. Considerable sales of English bare have been made from store and to arrive, at $39,6 menths.

Molasses.—Since our last there has been no important change in the market for this article, but the transactions, owing to the inclement state of the weather, were limited to 50 barrels new crop New Orleans at 31c.; and 30 hogsheads new crop Cardenas at 34c., 4 months.

Naval. Storks.—Common Wilmington rosin was quiet to day, with sales of only 100 barrels at $1 45, delivered. White rosin moved to the extent of 150 barrels at $2 50 a $3 per 280 ibs. In crude turpentine a fair business was done, the sales reaching 500 barrels at $2 57 per 280 ibs. In crude turpentine as 152 57 per 280 ibs. Spirits turpentine was very quiet, with only a few retail sales at 40c., cash. Buyers generally were holding back for lower rates.

Onta.—The market for linseed was very firm, and with a good demand. We note sales of 3,000 gallons, in lots from store, at 89 a 80c., cash, for English and American, in casks. In barrels, it would bring 92c. Whale oil has not varied and we know of no sales. A lot of 50 baskets olive oil sold at $2,87% for quarts lied oil was in better demand, and large sales have been made at 43 a 44c., cash.

Paovisions.—Pork.—The market was pretty active, but the inclement state of the weather had a tendency to check the business doing. Oil pork was in good request, and holders were standy, while new city meas was less freely offered, and prices had it anything, an improving inclination.
